Graham has been involved with scrutiny members for a while, but it was towards the latter end of 2006 that he was employed on a peer consultancy basis to assist in the active development of Members involved in the scrutiny processes.

In a very short time he developed and implemented a most innovative training programme, tailored to the needs of London Borough of Barnet. Members have responded well and there have been very positive improvements to the scrutiny processes in Barnet with members becoming increasingly engaged and looking to engage the community.

Graham has excellent interpersonal skills, adopting a variety of approaches in devising and delivering the programme. He has always been totally professional in approach in his dealings with Officers and Members alike and we have benefited from his counsel and expertise. Graham will effectively meet any challenges you have for him.
